

NSCC Copyright Notice and Disclaimer

Please check that your material complies with the Copyright Act of Canada before uploading it on this site. It is each user's professional and legal responsibility to comply with copyright legislation. NSCC reserves the right to remove any infringed material if found.

This repository will be accessible to employees and students across the College. When you are uploading your own work, you are granting permission for other members to copy, reuse and distribute it for educational or College uses. When uploading material that belongs to someone else, permission is required to post it online and further distribute within the College.

For more information on copyright, refer to the Copyright Subject Guide or contact your Campus Librarian or the Copyright Officer, Sam Cheng.

Strategies to avoid copyright infringement:

1. You must own the copyright or have written permission from the copyright owner to post a digital copy of the material in a College repository. Be sure to copy within the parameters set out by the copyright owner and remove the material when necessary if the copyright owner stated that you can use it for a limited time.
2. Do not post PowerPoint slides with substantial amounts of copyrighted material without permission in a repository.
3. Link to material if available online instead of copying actual content. Linking is not making a copy.
4. Don't re-digitize material. First check to see if it is already available electronically from the NSCC Library (<http://library.nsc.ca/>) and create a persistent link. Also, consider looking for other online materials available in the Library's licensed resources. Contact your Campus Library for more information.
5. Ask how much of the content do you need to copy or digitize to meet your needs. Can you quote or paraphrase an insignificant amount (e.g., a sentence or two or a short paragraph) to include in your own work with attribution instead of copying the work in its entirety? If you are using an insignificant amount, permission is not required to copy.

6. Use Creative Commons licensed resources since permission is not required to copy as long as attribution is provided. Here are some directories to search for them - <http://www.oercommons.org/> and <http://search.creativecommons.org/>

Still have questions? Check with your Campus Librarian or the Copyright Officer, Sam Cheng, for assistance. More information including using copyrighted materials in class is available on the Copyright Subject Guide.